Dear Mr. Dent:

Re: Carr Fork, Anaconda Minerals, M/045/004, Tooele County, Utah

On November 6, 1989, Wayne Hedberg and I inspected the reclaimed Carr Fork site. JBR Consultants had asked us to meet with them on site to discuss any outstanding reclamation concerns, and to finalize a release from the reclamation obligation. We requested that JBR initiate some minor revegetation work as a result of this inspection.

Consequently, some areas of the site were repaired and revegetated by JBR this past fall. Overall, the site has an excellent vegetative cover, and we anticipate no major hurdles in approving the revegetation aspect of the reclamation.

The Division will perform a final inspection of the site in May of 1990. We will evaluate the maintenance work performed this past fall, and look over the site in its entirety. After this inspection, we will make a final decision regarding the ultimate release of Anaconda's reclamation obligation at this site.

Sincerely,

Holland Shepherd
Reclamation Specialist
